

SONOMA COUNTY CONSERVATION COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

INTRODUCTION

Members of the SCCC are organizations of varied types ranging from ad hoc citizens' groups to incorporated nonprofits with sizeable paid staffs. Membership eligibility criteria include alignment of purpose with SCCC's mission, tangible evidence of pursuit of, or intention to pursue, that purpose and identification of a contemporary slate of responsible active persons (e.g. executive officers, board members, action committee, etc.).

For more SCCC background, visit: www.envirocentersoco.org/membership/docs

Typically, a group's representatives attend a Board meeting as visitors (or presenters) and get acquainted. At some point, a Membership Application is submitted, and an admission motion follows at a subsequent Board meeting.

Modest annual membership dues are established by mutual agreement; the dues amount considers both degree of use of SCCC facilities, if any is sought, and ability to contribute.

SCCC Directors (representatives of member orgs) meet at least quarterly, sometimes more often, depending on season and active projects. Meetings are announced in advance and noticed online at www.envirocentersoco.org/calendar.htm
